++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry at first, before turning wet towards the weekend.

Today:
Any overnight fog will soon clear to leave a mostly dry and bright day with some long-lived sunny spells, though the occasional isolated light shower is possible. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Tonight:
Staying dry overnight, though turning cloudier from the west. Clearer spells in the east where the odd fog patch may form. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Friday:
Cloud and rain will continue to move eastwards bringing most a cloudy day with some rain at times. Drier overnight with some clear spells. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Drier on Saturday for most. Cloudy with outbreaks of perhaps heavy rain on Sunday, these may persist through Monday as well. Some warm sunny spells are possible throughout.
